Subject: Re: April Sacramento River Temperature Modeling

All -

Find attached our full estimated CVP ops based on the April 90% exceedance forecast and the companion estimated upstream operations on the Feather and the Stanislaus Rivers. We will be getting updated May information over the next week and a half.

For the temperature model input, we are still working out a presentation method that might be useful to those that do not have a DSS format viewer - both for this year's input data and for comparison to last year's input set.
