yards. During Halaco's operation there, it was the target of repeated complaints about its waste water discharges and smoke stack emissions.

"The reason that LULAC has become involved in this cause is the injustice done to the people living near this superfund site as well restoring the Wetlands for all Californians. Beside protecting the environment, preserving history, the health of people and peace of mind that the air that they breath, or the ground that they live on will not kill them are concerning issues. The Federal Environmental Protection Agency E.P.A. became involved in 2006, two years after Halaco's closure," said O'Leary.

"People are stalling and have stalled for so long. We want it cleaned up, LULAC has helped spearhead the move to clean up and restore the Ormond Wetlands as it follows within our mission statement," said O'Leary.

LULAC MISSION STATEMENT:

The Mission of the League of United Latin American Citizens is to advance the economic condition, educational attainment, political influence, housing, health and civil rights of the Hispanic population of the United States. Based on our Mission Statement and responsibilities, we respectfully request the City of Oxnard's 2030 Plan be modified to treat the area as a historic treasure. Our research shows a Chumash Indian Village thrived on Ormond Beach and is thought to have existed for more than a thousand years. This historic issue is another reason the Ormond Beach Wetlands should be restored and protected as a state or national preserve/park land.
