Subject: Dates for MS4 workshops

Hi Wayne and Laurie,

I met with the folks from San Diego County yesterday and they let me know that the Copermittees had suggested alternate dates for the stakeholder meetings. They also mentioned that they may start on June 27th. I very much would like to be involved in the stakeholder meetings—especially the first one—but I will be out of town from June 27th-July 2. I would appreciate you taking into consideration my availability if you plan to change the dates from the one originally announced.

Also, I just wanted to share a concern that if the stakeholder group is expanded, there is the potential for additional environmental voices (perhaps NRDC) on the panel and also that it does not get too big. Colin from Orange County Coastkeeper relayed to me that the stakeholder process for the Orange County permit was too large to be effective. I would like to avoid that situation here.

Thanks!

Jill
