there are a lot of other things going on in this time and day that some body has nothing better to do than come up with b/s. dredging has been going a long time the world will not come to an end. If you all could come up with something that my be more important that could imperv something. dredging only clouds the water for a short time now more than a storm with hard rain that washes sediment trash oil gas and what have you thanks. bruce wynkoop