

This young lady found the angling still pretty good on the North Fork of the Feather River in 1915. The Maidu lived along the river at various points where fish, berries, and acorns were plentiful.

Reference: Plumas County, History of the Feather River Region, By Jim Young