Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

Dear Resources Agency,

The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta.

Your DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally.

Why done you wait until it rains and collect more water first before building more damaging tunnels. Another idea is to stop the over development of this State. If not then there is no end for the water demand no matter what you do. Be responsible for Plants and Animals as well as the people who have lost touch with Nature.

Please stop the California WaterFix, and review more alternatives that will actually protect the Delta.

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

Dear Resources Agency,

The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta.

Your DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally. Does it take into account the likelihood that natural flows of water INTO the Delta will decrease in coming decades because of climate change? The freshwater in the Delta originates as snowfall in California's mountains, and we've already seen those trending lower and lower. Spending huge amounts of money to divert water AWAY from the Delta is crazy, in that context.

Please stop the California WaterFix, and review more alternatives that will actually protect the Delta.

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

Dear Resources Agency,

The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta. It is the brainchild of those who will profit from just one more big project whose only true function will be to enrich the developers. If you have not read Cadillac Desert you should do so immediately. Our history is rich with stories of developers become very wealthy without actually solving our problems with water.

Your DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally. Water conservation through rainfall capture, water recycling, and wise use should be our goals at this time.

Please stop the California WaterFix, and review more alternatives that will actually protect the Delta. NO MORE BIG PROJECTS. The promise a lot, deliver little, and make the developers very wealthy.

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

Dear Resources Agency,

The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta. We have precious little wetland habitat left in California and dwindling protected natural spaces. The solution to California's water problems need to future proof and drought proof. Taking more water out of already strained watersheds and building more water storage is not the solution. Invest in infrastructure that provides water in times of drought such as fog fences, solar desalinization, urban cisterns, and runoff control.

Your DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally.

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

California's water problems cannot be solved by moving water around; they have to be solved by conservation and thinking about water in new ways.

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta. Too much water has and is being diverted from the delta, resulting in land subsidence, damage to listed species, and loss of critical habitat. Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

Dear Resources Agency,

The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta. The Tunnels Plan is a 15-plus billion dollar disaster waiting to happen. Diverting water away from the Delta will take needed water away from fish, birds and other wildlife. It will cause the destruction of the estuary without creating any new water for users. When the effects of climate change bring about higher temperatures and diminished snowpack, there will be less water in the Sacramento River to export at a time when more water will be needed to preserve salmon habitat and Delta water quality.

Your DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally. Depriving the Delta of flows through a diversion point on the Sacramento River will destroy the Delta habitat and economy.

Please stop the California WaterFix, and review more alternatives that will actually protect the Delta. The Tunnels plan will do the opposite, leading to the destruction of the Delta, and will deplete the water needed by the whole surrounding region in Northern California. We who live in this area, cannot afford to stand by and accept this extremely destructive and expensive plan! There are better alternatives which will be more compatible with the conditions caused by climate change, and which could better preserve the Delta and the precious water which sustains life there and in the surrounding area.

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

The San Francisco Bay Delta is the hub of California's water system. The Delta is also a unique and priceless ecosystem that depends on flows through it. The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta.

Your DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally. The Tunnels will paradoxically deplete the Delta of precious water by changing flows, but will not create any new water for users.

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

Dear Resources Agency,

The drought in California is a direct result of Geoengineering, aka Weather Modification programs being carried out by the US Military, and others. These deadly programs have been fully deployed without the informed consent of the public. Information on these topics is widely available, though is not reported on mainstream media. These programs are poisoning the entire planet and everything on it, and are literally tearing apart the very life support systems that make life on planet Earth possible.

Coming up with any water scheme without bravely confronting and exposing the the source of the problem is both cowardly and futile. The truth about climate change is being exposed. You need to be part of it.

Tax payers have been swindled out of their money, and are sacrificing their loved ones up to the military thinking all along that this is a noble cause. What is happening here is nothing short of the biggest lie and affront to all life humanity has ever seen. The damage already done to this wondrous planet and the resources on which all life depends are wholly incalculable. This insanity must be stopped immediately!

The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta.

Your DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally, nor does it seek to confront the massive deception of the public by our so called Government.

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

You, Governor Brown, know we need to be looking at ways of living within our means and not extending ecosystems so far beyond their natural capability. I agree that the San Joaquin pumps are devastating but so is opening the flood gates to allow yet more water to be relocated to arid/desert areas. Pumping more water away from the Delta and destroying that vital ecosystem is not the solution that's needed. If cities can't support themselves on the amount of water they currently have, then populations need to be relocated, not resources.

We do not want, need, nor can we afford more mega-infrastructure boondoggles. We have too many already.

The California water crisis is multifaceted and requires a multifaceted set of solutions. Firstly, bringing to the table and empowering ALL stakeholders including those which are dependent on thriving ecosystem(s). We then need to set comprehensive long term goals and policies that will bring us ever closer to a flexible, secure and sustainable future. By definition, to be sustainable our policies and systems need to be locally oriented, resilient and provide adequately for the needs of all.

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

Dear Resources Agency,

Please do not approve the plan to build tunnels under the San Francisco Bay Delta to move more water to Southern California.

The Tunnels represent a 20th century model of delivering water that won't work in the climate-change challenged present. Increasing temperatures will dramatically alter flow patterns as diminished snowpack becomes the new normal. Less water will be available for export at the same time that more water must be held to preserve salmon habitat and Delta water quality. Increased reliance on Delta exports that will not be available run contrary to preserving the ecosystem. The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta.

The DEIR/DEIS prepared for this project is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally.

Please do not approve this project, and instead review alternatives that will actually protect the Delta.

Dear Resources Agency,

The California WaterFix is the nail in the coffin of the SF Bay-Delta ecosystem.

Your DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally. The tunnels project would siphon away vast quantities of local funds that should instead go towards building self-reliance in Southern California and the South Bay Area and water conservation and groundwater recharge in the San Joaquin Valley.

I seriously question what water would be available to send through the tunnels if best science-based climate change scenarios come to pass.

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

Dear Resources Agency,

Don't mess with our Delta! It is a valuable resource on which the whole Bay ecosystem depends.

The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta. Altering the water flow will endanger the plant, fish and bird and animal life that depend on it, as well as harming adjacent farmers.

Your DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally. Building the Tunnels is an enormously expensive project that will accomplish little other than diverting the water flow to benefit some water users at the expense of others. It does nothing to create new water sources, not to more wisely manage the ones limited ones we have.

Please stop the California WaterFix, and seek other alternatives that will actually protect the Delta and the Bay

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

Dear Resources Agency,

I am writing in opposition to the "California Water Fix."

It seems to me that Southern California has been trying to suck away Northern California's water since before I was born--and I'm 75.

I'm not able to drive as far as the Delta any more, but I've seen it many times. It's a beautiful and complex ecosystem that depends totally on the water from the Sacramento River. The tunnel project will divert water from that entire estuary, just as climate change will be lowering the flow by reducing the snowpack. We've had a preview of those conditions during our prolonged drought.

For the sake of the habitat and the local economy, please stop the California WaterFix, and review more alternatives that will actually protect the Delta.

Thank you!

The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta.

Your DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally.

Furthermore, it puts the greed of frackers and Big Ag before the rights and needs of the people of California.

Read Vandana Shiva on small-scale farming, embrace the Transition movement and start moving to a smarter water policy where environmental quality counts, family farms are the order of the day, produce is grown that is either suitable for our arid climate or in greenhouses where the water can be efficiently recycled and the use of pesticides kept to a minimum.

And taxpayer dollars are NOT sucked up to bolster short-term profits for unsustainable corporations.

Small farms ARE the wave of the future. Already, using between 20% and 25% of the world's farmland, they are feeding the entire world: <http://www.permaculture.co.uk/news/0406145066/small-farmers-are-feeding-world-less-land>

Invest in clean energy. That will create jobs - well-paying careers, help reduce global warming and not devastate our land, air and water the way that fracking will do. Green energy is sustainable.

The advocates of fracking are in it for short term profits and look to exports to make more money, faster. Who will clean up their spills? Who will replace the animal species they destroy? How will we reclaim the water they waste? What will their infrastructure be used for in ten or twenty years?

The tunnels project will be a disaster on many levels. DON'T waste tax dollars, DON'T impose unfair costs on the citizens of Los Angeles.

This project will cost billions of taxpayer dollars at a time when our state cannot afford it. An entire river should not be redirected for the sake of large-scale greed by unsustainable farming methods and into the cesspool of chemical runoff from fracking.

Please stop the California WaterFix, and look for alternatives that will actually protect the Delta and help California become resilient in the long term.

Sincerely,

Dear BDCP/California WaterFix Comments,

Dear Resources Agency,

Please do not MESS with the natural flows of the Delta. We need to use our other water resources more wisely. The California WaterFix will lead to the destruction of the Delta and it's the biggest on the West Coast.

I just came back from South Carolina where delta-like lands are managed to help wildfowl in their migrations. WE should do the same.

Your plan for the tunnels does not ask citizens and farmers to make better use of their own water first. DEIR/DEIS is flawed because it does not take into account ways to reduce the dependence on the Delta by increasing water independence locally.

Please stop the California WaterFix, and review more alternatives that will actually protect the Delta. Surely there are imaginative alternatives. If a backward state like South Carolina can save wetlands, we should be able to, also.

THANKS for rethinking this problem and coming up with a better solution.

Sincerely,
