California combines its 303(d) List and 305(b) Report into a single “California Integrated Report.”

BACKGROUND

The State Water Board, along with the Regional Water Quality Control Boards, is developing the 2020-2022 Integrated Report. The Integrated Report is comprised of a list of the state’s impaired waters (Clean Water Act (CWA) section 303(d) List) and a report on the condition of its surface waters (CWA section 305(b) Report). The CWA requires the states to submit this information to the USEPA every two years.

¹ As a result of the COVID-19 emergency and the Governor’s Executive Orders to protect public health by limiting public gatherings and requiring social distancing, this meeting will occur solely via remote presence.

The California Integrated Report is developed in “listing cycles.” To develop the 303(d) List, the State and Regional Water Boards review available data and evaluate whether or not local surface waters meet applicable water quality standards. Each listing cycle consists primarily of assessments from the three of the nine Regional Water Boards. The 2020-2022 listing cycle focuses on the Central Coast Region as well as the San Diego and Central Valley Regions. Data solicitation for this cycle occurred from December 2018 to June 2019 and included data collected between 2010 and July 2019.

The State Water Board will release a 2020-2022 Integrated Report staff report for public review and comment on the proposed changes to the California Integrated Report on or before June 4, 2021. This staff report will be available on the State Water Board website. You may request a paper copy of the draft staff report by contacting Keara Tuso at keara.tuso@waterboards.ca.gov.

PURPOSE

This meeting will provide participants with 1) an overview of the 2020-2022 Integrated Report staff report and proposed additions and revisions to the California Integrated Report and 2) an opportunity to comment and ask questions.

Central Coast Water Board staff will consider the issues raised and comments provided by attendees of the remote video and teleconference in preparing the final reports that will be presented to the State Water Resources Control Board.

Additionally, if stakeholders wish to submit written comments, please submit written comments on or before July 16, 2021. To submit written comments, please see the section entitled “How to Submit Written Comments” below.
