Dear Madelyn Glickfeld,

For the health and viability of Channel Islands Harbor, it is crucial to keep the water pumps through the Edison canal operational.

The decay in water quality will be detrimental to the health of sea life as well as to the financial stability and prosperity of the harbor and area surrounding it.

It's to the advantage of both the city of Oxnard and Ventura County to keep the harbor water clean. If the harbor deteriorates, people will move away, the marinas will decay, and tax revenues will suffer.

We, the taxpayers, should be heard!
