Chair Felicia Marcus

Dear Chair Marcus,

Population needs are siphoning of water needed for a healthy biosphere. People don't realize that this will shorten the time people survive. Overpopulation needs to be addressed. As a Defender of Wildlife, I am writing to urge you to act quickly to adopt a statewide wetlands policy that will protect California's wetlands.

Wetlands are essential for ducks, shorebirds, fish, snakes, turtles and many other animals. They also protect against floods, recharge groundwater and improve water quality. Yet these precious habitats are under attack. California has lost over 90 percent of its historic wetlands, and additional wetland acres are destroyed and degraded every year.

Current state and federal protections for wetlands are inadequate, and if the board fails to act fast, we could lose these precious resources forever. Once the Trump administration repeals and weakens the federal Clean Water Rule, many important California wetlands, including vernal pools, will be stripped of Clean Water Act protections. With the federal government out of the picture, effective state regulation is essential, and the current system isn't working.

By finalizing the draft wetlands policy soon, you can fill the void left by Trump's rollbacks and help to preserve California's wetlands and wildlife.

Before adopting the policy, a few changes are necessary to make sure it's effective. The compensatory mitigation requirements should be strengthened to ensure that every lost wetland acre is replaced, the requirements for analysis of alternatives should be improved so that every project can avoid and minimize wetland impacts, and a loophole that could allow for the destruction of wetlands on some agricultural lands needs to be closed. With these changes, you can protect our wetlands and help make sure California complies with its no-net-loss obligations.

Please act fast to save California's wetlands. The board's leadership on this issues is more important than ever before. I hope that you will rise to the occasion.

Sincerely,

Ms. Karen Scheuermann
