

Figure 1. Timeline of CCGC spring monitoring for individual compliance relative to monitoring costs and receipt of annual dues.

The above timeline reflects the sequence of events relative to the CCGC request to extend the deadline for monitoring wells in the spring for individual compliance. The CCGC anticipates that the receipt of sufficient funds to cover expenses associated with the second round of monitoring of individual wells will occur too late to cover expenses if the monitoring is conducted this spring starting in April. Therefore, the CCGC has proposed to conduct spring monitoring starting in the month of June (90 day extension of deadline) and complete the sampling of approximately 500 wells as quickly as possible (anticipated to take 3 months).

If the extension is granted, contractor invoices for monitoring (sample collection, laboratory analysis) will be received between August and October which overlaps with the receipt of 2015 dues payments.
