

Willmington Industrial Park Block 27, Los Angeles

- SCAP-funded project removed approximately 5,600 cubic yards of impacted soil from a former oil well field and marine salvage yard.
- The City of Los Angeles, Department of Toxic Substances Control, and the State Water Board collaborated in the site cleanup.
- Cleanup will allow the former brownfield to be redeveloped for commercial/industrial use, revitalizing the local economy and surrounding natural amenities.