I purchased property in Cagadero in June 1989. At that time I noticed an article in the Press Democrat regarding rising prices of housing in Santa Rosa. The article stated that housing (in SR) had already surpassed the income of young Santa Rosa couples trying to purchase a first family home with regards to their income.

Recently I heard on television that Santa Rosa was considered to be the 5th highest housing in the state of Calif. That indicates that San Francisco, Marin, Bay Hills - Bel Air & Orange Co. were only areas that surpassed Santa Rosa (those people could afford increases in ~~the~~ average ~~suppose~~!).

The water/sewage problem arose long before 1989 & 1996 - where does Santa Rosa plan to stop their expansion? There will be even more sewage problems in the future if this situation is not addressed NOW!
