BACKGROUND

The United States Environmental Protection Agency issued revised Federal underground storage tank (UST) regulations on July 15, 2015. The revisions strengthen the 1988 Federal UST regulations by increasing the emphasis on properly operating and maintaining UST systems. State Water Resources Control Board State (State Water Board) staff have drafted revised language in chapter 16 of title 23 of the California Code of Regulations to reflect current requirements imposed by the Federal UST regulations.

We would like to share and discuss the initial draft language to receive feedback from various stakeholders before pursuing the formal rulemaking process. This workshop will cover the revised text and associate the requirement with the Federal UST regulations. Comments, concerns, and suggestions discussed during these workshops will be noted so that State Water Board staff can better understand concerns between various stakeholders. The changes discussed are limited only to those which correlate to the new Federal UST regulations.
