

Written Testimony of Kristin White

My name is Kristin White and I have been involved in water supply modeling for Reclamation systems through various projects since 2010. My involvement in modeling specifically for the Central Valley Project has included some direct modeling, but mostly consisted of determining appropriate model inputs and assumptions as well as reviewing results. I joined the BDCP modeling team in mid-2014 and assisted the consultant with updating the base model (without project) to be consistent with the most recent Reclamation model at that time. Through this effort I was involved in numerous model reviews of both the model itself as well as model documentation. I have participated in the modeling testimony for this hearing by reviewing drafts and making comments on CVP-related matters.

This concludes my testimony.
