To all concerned citizens:

Water is precious, and its uses must be prioritized. The first use of potable water is to sustain human and animal life. The next use of unadulterated water is to sustain food crops. Other responsible uses are to run turbines and other industrial equipment promoting environmentally sound maintenance of power sources, to fight fires, and to irrigate plants that are not used for food, but that nevertheless contribute to the environment. The last use of water is for fracking. We must protest and prohibit this misuse of our most precious life-sustaining resource! No California water should be part of the fracking process!!
