

Hello,

It is not fair for Water Resources Control Board to impose further water cutbacks or uncertain obligations on our Monterey Peninsula community that has done so much already as responsible consumers of water.

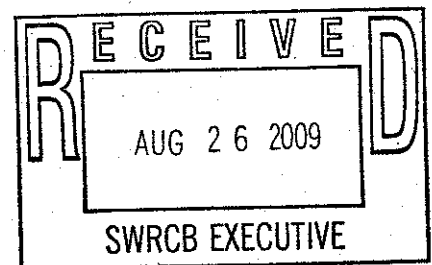

What is missing is a POSITIVE AND PERMANENT resource which will end this issue and STOP depleting our natural river. Local politicians have been growing fat on the jobs basically chumming it up with 'friendly adversairies' over countless rounds of golf, then consuming endless 5 star meals and puffing cigars and sipping good liquor at the 19th hole. Enough already!

I smell job security for a few, and politics as usual. I say:

Fire them all and spend their salaries and some bond money building a desal plant offshore, pump the water in, and let's be done with it. We don't need to disturb the environment if we pump far enough out, low enough, and simply build a pipeline and put the plant where, say, the cement plant is now in Marina, or anywhere on State soil now. Lord knows we can get cement other places. Buy them out! It's already there, for Pete's Sake. We don't need to spend trillions on copious environmental, feasibility, energy, and other ridiculous studies. We have the technology.

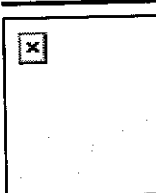

Many countries are already far ahead of us. We are drowning ourselves (pardon the pun) in red tape, politics, and finger pointing. Enough. Just build the darn thing and let's get some jobs, endless amounts of water, and quit the red tape.

YES WE CAN!

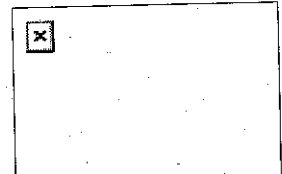

Best,

Dorothee Crawford
